Location

The Ojai School of Canine Massage is located in the town of Ojai, nestled at the southern border of the Los Padres National Forest, 75 miles northwest of Los Angeles, 35 miles southeast of Santa Barbara, and 14 miles from Ventura. The area surrounding the Ojai Valley has a multitude of campgrounds, hiking and bicycling trails and free running streams. The Lake Casitas recreational area alone offers 2,700 wooded acres for boating, fishing, camping and picnicking.

Ojai (pronounced “Oh-hi”) is a Chumash Indian name now thought to mean “Valley of the Moon,” although many residents who favor a previous translation fondly call our mountain-ringed valley “The Nest.” The Ojai Valley is known around the world as an artist colony and spiritual mecca, and as the locale of several famous spas and healing centers. It is also recognized for its annual tennis tournament and music festivals, as well as its excellent private schools.

At dusk, Ojai’s distinctive Topa Topa mountains are bathed in the rosy glow of the setting sun. This is a magical time of day, known locally as “The Pink Moment.” Come enjoy the beauty, the serenity, and the special quality of life that are to be found in the Ojai Valley.

Jamie is a founder and Director of the Ojai School of Canine Massage. She studied pre-physical therapy at Georgia State University, and received her bachelor's degree in liberal arts in 1985; and taught fitness for three years. While integrating her vision of holistic health into her massage practice, she is dedicated to furthering her knowledge of the healing arts for body, mind, and spirit. In 1999 Jamie opened the Ojai School of Canine Massage, along with Nick Scott. In taking on the administrative duties of this school, Jamie has focused her energies on enriching the curriculum and assisting students in discovering and actualizing their life work.

“I gratefully acknowledge all of you who have recognized the unique healing potential of massage. I am also grateful for our main instructor, Nick Scott, who superbly conveys the school’s message through his depth of wisdom. We hope to share with you the fulfilling gifts of health, healing, and vitality. We look forward to the opportunity of providing for you a nurturing environment where you may acquire both in-depth knowledge and a balanced and peaceful spirit of healing.” – Jamie L. Roth

In this way, I further hope to play a part in preparing the legions of love and light to move forward into a new dawn of hope, health, and happiness.” – Nick J. Scott

Standards for student achievement

We, at the Ojai School of Canine Massage strive to uphold our excellent reputation in the field of Massage Therapy, for both humans and animals.

We strive to set a example for excellence in student achievement by assuring that our incoming students are prepared to enter their chosen field of canine massage therapy as well-trained professionals. This is accomplished in several ways. First, our classes are small which create a learning environment where students receive a more personalized education. Smaller classes create a environment where students have more one-on-one interaction with the instructor.

In addition, students are offered a forum to provide feedback during and following a course of study. This valuable information is evaluated and used to modify and improve our programming where needed.

While in a chosen program, student's progress is also measured by asking students to demonstrate their understanding of what they have learned and their ability to apply it. This is accomplished through hands-on practical tests and also written testing. This helps improve instruction and thus students overall performance.

The Ojai School of Canine Massage is dedicated to our students and their future success. Our programs are designed with this goal in mind. That is, to provide a thorough and well-rounded education to people who will leave this school as confident well-trained leaders in the field of Canine massage therapy. Our goal is have our graduates leave this school prepared to provide a valuable and much needed service designed to help humans and animals and, thus, the world as a whole.

The Ojai School of Canine Massage is approved by the BPPE as an exempt institution.
